

In 2023, COVID permitting, the Contra Costa Family Medicine Residency Program will sponsor two Point of Care Ultrasound (POCUS) courses:

Saturday, January 21st & Sunday, January 22nd, 2023

Saturday, June 24th & Sunday, June 25th, 2023

Specifics: Priority enrollment is given to clinical faculty or residents interested in starting or developing a POCUS program in their Family Medicine Residency Program. Please see Schedule under Resources tab for an example of course content.

Participation in the course will allow you to receive 15 units CME (AAFP), limited access to the on-line, global ultrasound institute, learning platform ( globalultrasoundinstitute.com ) and a certification of completion that can be utilized to get POCUS privileges at your home institution. The course will teach bedside ultrasound skills that are helpful for outpatient and inpatient physicians.

The hours of the courses will be 800am - 500pm on Saturday and 830am - 500pm on Sunday. The course will take place at the:
Contra Costa Regional Medical Center, Building 1, first floor conference center
2500 Alhambra Way, Martinez, CA 94553

Payment: The course costs $949. Similar courses by commercial vendors cost over $1250. Receipt of payment will reserve you a spot in the course. Space is limited. Your payment will help cover the costs of the course and all proceeds support our Global Health Fellowship that is helping to develop the nascent specialty of Family Medicine in Malawi.

Please obtain payment information and enroll in the course by e-mailing Diana Lee at: Diana.Lee@cchealth.org.

Please feel free to contact me if you have any questions.

Best wishes,

Matthew Fentress MD

Matthew.Fentress@cchealth.org